Community Disability Awareness Training

Arizona Center for the Blind and Visually Impaired

Disability concepts made simple

Everyday you meet someone with a disability. Without realizing it there are some basic concepts in human relations and understanding of what makes each one of us unique as a member of the community.

We will work with you to help you have a better understanding of others in the community and to bridge gaps in human relations.

You will learn basic etiquette as well as some of the most common assistive technology devices and who they serve!

Trainings

Does your staff work with the public? Are your staff trained to respond the needs of people in your community who have disabilities? How does a person with a hearing loss or visual impairment interact with your company.

Community Disability Awareness Trainings provide the latest information on disabilities and offers insight into working with diverse populations. Helping to bridge gaps between the individuals with disabilities of your community and your business.

Trainings are offered as an interactive, in person sessions. This allows for hands on training and opportunity to ask questions and apply training information in role play scenarios.
